SILVER IN DANGER.

The House Declines to Pass the Senate Bill.

A Committee of Conference is Demanded.

A Bitter Struggle in the Senate Over the Admission of the Territory of Wyoming.

By the Associated Press.1

Washington, June 25 .- The Senate bill to prevent transportation in bond of merchandise between the United States and Mexico and to restore that right wherever the Zona Libra is abolished, was reported adversely.

When the doors were reopened the Senate took up the bill for the admission of Wyoming as a State. The bill was temporarily laid aside and Mr. Ingalls offered a resolution instructing on committee privileges and elections to inquire into the publication record today of the personal explanation by Mr. Call and report whether it is in accordance with the rules, etc. This led to a sharp spat, in the course of which Mr. Ingalls charged Mr. Call with having "deliberately falsified the record."

He was called to order and modified this making it "change the record." The resolution then went over without action and the Senate proceeded with the Wyo- stored order. ming admission bill. The report of the committee on Territories being read Mr. Vest opposed the bill. He knew in she past that States had been admitted with small populations because of some sectional or party exigencies. But none such existed now. Wyoming, he said, has a population of not over 60,000, scattered over the imm ense area of 97, 000 square miles. Mr. Vest said he not vote for the admission of Wyoming with its present constitution permitting woman sufferage. It was antagonistic to the spirit and institutions of the American people. He deplores the extension of suffrage to the colored men in the South, and said that no intelligent man today would give it to them. He, himself, would no more give them the right of suffrage than he would a deadly weapon to a child. Certainly he would not give it to the colored women, who were far more impulsive and thoughtless than men. Another objection Mr. Vest made to the constitution of Wyoming was that it gave the right of holding property to aliens.

Mr. Platt said that Wyoming has good a right to admission as any Territory that ever was admitted, He was surprised that gentlemen depopulation of Wyoming was nearer 25,000 than 100,000. In conclusion Mr. Platt spoke of the great resources of Wyoming, and said that with irrigation it could support ten millions of people. At the close of Mr. Platt's remarks he made an effort to have a vote taken on the bill, but Mr. Vest objected and moved an amendment, and the Senate adjourned.

In the House.

Washington, June 25,-Mr. Boutelle presented a conference report of the Naval Appropriation bill and insisted on its consideration notwithstanding the objection of Mr. Bland that he was thereby consuming the short time remaining for debate on the silver bill. Mr. Boutelle made a short explanation of the details of the agreement reached in conference and called for the previous question, which was ordered. eas,139; nays,109. The conference report was then adopted. On motion of Mr. Conger debate on the silver bill was extended till 3 o'clock. Mr. Morse of Massachusetts, took the floor in support of the House bill. The debate was continued by Messrs. Taylor of Illinois, February, Cucheon of Michigan, O Gunnell of of Illinois, and Mr. McKinley, in closing debate, said he wanted the use of both metals to continue and opposed the Senate amendments. He wanted the metals to stand side by side on an equal in purchasing power and of legal tender quality. The gentlemen who favored the Senate amendments wanted silver to do all of the work. Whatever we had for money in this country must be equal in purchasing power and legal tender quality, whether gold, paper or silver dollars, each redeemable in the other and each exchangable for each other, and each of

The House then, by a rising vote of 140 to 85, sent the bill back to the Senate with a request to appoint a conference committee.

Mr. Hitt presented a conference report on the diplomatic appropriation bill, and it was agreed to.

Mr. Cannon from the Committee on Rules reported back a substitute for the resolution introduced by Mr. Land setting apart five days of the present week for the consideration of the national election bill. The substitute provides that immediately after the passage of that immediately after the passage of the silver bill the House proceed to con-sider the election bill until July 2, at 2 o'clock, when the previous question should be considered ordered. This was not to interfere with the general appropriation bills.

Mr. Springer moved to adjourn and Mr. Enloe shouted, "this is a bill to revolutionize the government." Finally it was agreed to allow forty minutes debate on the resolution with the previous questions. standing that the previous question should be considered ordered and Mr. Springer withdrew the motion to adjourn. Mr. McMillen and Mr. Blount rigorously attacked the bill and from this time on there was great confusion on the floor.

Messrs, Cannon and O'Neal engaged in colloquy somewhat personal, and this added so much to the already existing disorder that the sergeant-at-arms came forward with his mace of office and re-
